Grand Central Station Attendants.
A practical demonstration of the wisdom of establishing a free messenger and guide service at the New York Central station in New York City was given a few days ago, remarked a gentleman who had just returned from the metropolis this morning. "I went to the big town on the 20th evening train, arriving at New York at 7:30, on time to a minute, as usual. In the car that I was in was a charming old lady who had a big satchel. When we got off the train she proposed to carry the old lady's baggage to the street from away up at the Forty-fourth street end of the depot. It's a long walk, you know, from that end to the Forty-second street exit, and the old lady was all alone. I was just about to take her satchel from the porter, when a smart young man in a blue uniform, wearing a badge on his chest, as British soldiers wear, and having em-broidered on the front in gold letters, 'Grand Central Station Attendant,' stepped up to her, touched his hat and politely asked where she wished to go. He took the satchel from the porter and carried it to the entrance, where, after protecting her from the horde of hack-men, he put her and her baggage in a cross-town car and went back to the station. Of course, it was only what he was hired to do, but he did it so nicely that I was greatly pleased, and the old lady was pleased also. There was a troubled look on her face when she stepped off the train, but when she saw the uniform of the young fellow who spoke to her it all disappeared. She knew she was in good hands and need not worry more. That messenger service is a great institution. When a lady boards a New York Central train for New York alone she is protected from the time she starts till she is safely in a carriage or car in New York City. What more could be asked of a railroad than that?"—Rochester Union and Advertiser.

BISHOP BONACUM AS A BOUNCER.
Orders Father Fitzgerald to Remove from South Auburn Parish July 1.
During the temporarily absence of Rev. D. G. Fitzgerald from the parish residence in South Auburn last Friday, Bishop Bonacum of Lincoln made a personal call and left the reverend gentleman a reminder of his visit. It was a formal note, bearing date April 26, informing Father Fitzgerald that his services in the diocese will be dispensed with on and after the 1st of July next.

Father Fitzgerald labored in the Lincoln diocese a little over five years, having been accepted April 9, 1890. For two years or more he has not enjoyed episcopal favor. He was uncommonly active in the movement against Bishop Bonacum, with which readers of The Bee are familiar. He was secretary of the priests' organization and conducted its correspondence with dignity and force.
Father Fitzgerald was not taken by surprise. He had expected the order of removal for some time. Several of his associates in the fight for the removal of the bishop were obliged to seek other fields of labor, and he will follow gladly.

FOUR OF THEM BOUND OVER
Parties Implicated in Polish Church Riot Who Must Stand Trial.
For the first time since the Polish church riots occurred in Sheeley the police court is freed from all the cases that grew out of it, and it is thought that no more charges will be preferred, as the participants in the trouble have become tired of legal fights. Yesterday afternoon Judge Berka bound over to the district court four men who are charged with assaulting Anton India with intent to inflict great bodily injury. Their names and the amounts of their bonds are: Charles Jacob, $200; August Netzel, $200; Frank Szczepanski, $250; and Adam Przanowski, $200. Originally there were thirty-nine defendants in court who were charged with either assault or with intent to riot. In the course of trials this number was cut down to the four who were yesterday bound over.

CIRCLE CHECK SYSTEM.

May Be Put in Operation in Omaha by Organized Labor.

"What is the 'circle check' system?" This is a question that is now being asked in labor circles of Omaha several times a day by the many workers who are anxiously looking for some method to strengthen organized labor, and thereby benefit the great mass of workers. In explanation of the circle check system it may be said that it is a proposition of the central labor union of a city to have printed a number of checks with amounts ranging from 5 cents up to $5 to be given only to merchants against whom there is no ban of organized labor. The merchant is supposed to keep a supply of checks on hand to be given out with goods sold in amounts corresponding with the sale when required by the purchaser. Each union man, or any member of his family, when buying goods is expected to only purchase where the checks are to be had, and at the end of each month turn in to his union all checks received during the month. If a member of the union fails to turn in any checks it is known by the other members of the union that he patronizes unfair stores and can then be boycotted.

This action was by a vote of 3 to 2. Messrs. Williams, Livezey and Jenkins being in the affirmative, and Stenberg and Sutton in the negative. The business was in committee of the whole. When formally submitted the report was adopted.
The board was at once notified that it would be made the party defendant to a mandamus action in the supreme court. Mr. Patterson protested against the action of the board and stated that the papers were already prepared and no time would be lost in testing the constitutionality of the law in this way. The unionists, however, insisted that the commissioners would not throw any obstacles in the way of an early adjudication of the suit. Several of the members assured Omaha that nothing of the kind would be done, as the commissioners were anxious to know how the law would be construed by the supreme court.
Since last week the board has been in recess, so that the first business taken up at 2 o'clock was to receive the report of the committee of the whole. The report was adopted, four voting in favor, and Sutton alone voting against.
The report stated that the requisite number of voters, 2,500 and over, had signed the petition for the special election, but upon due consideration a majority of the committee of the whole recommended that there was no doubt whether a canal could be constructed with the difference in amount between the present indebtedness of Douglas county, and the amount of the assessed valuation of the property of Douglas county. MATTERS OF ROUTINE BUSINESS.
Sitting in business session the county commissioners yesterday passed upon a few matters of routine business, including a petition for a writ of habeas corpus, and a petition for a writ of mandamus, and a petition for a writ of prohibition.

AFRAID THE LAW IS NOT SOUND

Commissioners Refuse to Call a Special Platte Canal Bond Election.

TOOK DECISIVE ACTION YESTERDAY

Notice Given that the Matter Will at Once Go to the Supreme Court in Mandamus Proceeding—Board Will Favor a Speedy Determination.

When the Board of County Commissioners adjourned Friday the members had fully decided to call a special election on the Platte canal bond proposition. It was expected that when they met yesterday the call would be issued, but it was not, and the board went further and took the position of refusing to issue it.
This action was by a vote of 3 to 2. Messrs. Williams, Livezey and Jenkins being in the affirmative, and Stenberg and Sutton in the negative. The business was in committee of the whole. When formally submitted the report was adopted.

MAY DAY BEE NOTES.

Papers have been ordered sent to nearly every country in the postal union.
No copy for display advertisements will be received later than 10 a. m. Monday.

Mrs. Jeanette M. White is to edit the South Omaha department in The May Day Bee.
The young men on The Bee are receiving a great deal of attention from The May Day reporters. For their encouragement it may be well to say "Full all be ever so!"

The women are struggling to master the mysteries of headline writing. One of them avers that "slug heads" are hard to construct than sonnets, and she wonders why rhetorics do not devote more space to this vitally important subject.
If there are any people in Omaha who have been working harder for the past fortnight than the advertising solicitors, generated by Mrs. Robert Hunter, we would like to have them stand up to be counted. That the work has been well done will be seen on the list of May.

Mrs. Fanny Adler, one of Omaha's experienced newspaper women, has written a very interesting description of May Day in Europe, which will appear in The May Day Bee. Mrs. Adler has traveled extensively and is able to speak of the subject from personal observation.
Mrs. Adeline Emerson Thompson of Orange, N. J., a niece of the late Charlotte Emerson Brown, first president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, contributes an article on college settlements to the Woman's Edition. As president of the College Settlement association she is eminently fitted to discuss the subject.

The older residents of Omaha will be interested to read the letters in The May Day Bee from many who were once well known here. Mrs. Reuben Gaylord, Mrs. Clara Kellom Adama, Mrs. Dana Lander, and others. Miss Ethelwyn Kennedy, who has charge of that department, has received heaps of letters in response to her requests.
Outlaws and Moonshiners Fight.
MONTGOMERY, Ala., April 27.—News of a bloody encounter reaches here from the town of Opelika, Alabama, where a "Railroad Bill," a negro desperado and train robber, accompanied by several of his pals, ran upon a camp of moonshiners. The outlaws thought they had encountered a posse and the moonshiners concluded they were attacked by a revenue band. A fight followed and several are reported as being fatally wounded, but survivors on each side have been injured away and the result is unknown.

Sholto Will Ask the Consul's Aid.
BAKERSFIELD, Cal., April 27.—Lord Sholto Douglas, the son of the marquis of Queensbury, against whom insanity proceedings were dismissed yesterday, and who has been figuring in several sensational events here, has gone to San Francisco to consult the British consul and lay his troubles before that official.

Death of Lieutenant Taylor.
WASHINGTON, April 27.—Lieutenant Taylor, attached to the Norfolk navy yard and appointed from Michigan in 1888, died at Norfolk today of apoplexy. He will be buried at the Arlington cemetery on Tuesday.
